On November 5, 2021, OSHA published, in the federal register, its highly anticipated COVID-19 Emergency Temporary Standard (ETS) which covers employers with 100 or more employees. The ETS generally requires, among other things, covered employers to do the following:

- Determine the vaccination status of each employee, obtain acceptable proof of vaccination status from vaccinated employees and maintain records and a roster of each employee's vaccination status.
- Require employees to provide prompt notice when they test positive for COVID-19 or receive a COVID-19 diagnosis. Employers must then remove such employees from the workplace, regardless of vaccination status and they must not be allowed to return to work until they meet specified requirements.
- Ensure each worker who is not fully vaccinated be tested for COVID-19 at least weekly (if the worker is in the workplace at least once a week) or within 7 days before returning to work (if the worker is away from the workplace for a week or longer).
- Ensure that, in most situations, each employee who has not been fully vaccinated wears a face covering when indoors or when occupying a vehicle with another person for work purposes.
