Start Time: 12:30 p.m. ET

End Time: 1:30 p.m. ET

With the anti-ESG movement gaining traction, companies across the country are trying to avoid being a target while being loyal to their values and commitments to the public. In this program, a panel comprising C-suite legal and financial executives will examine regulations related to ESG, the impact of the regulations on businesses, and the challenges and opportunities that are arising as a result. The session will provide insight into how companies are maneuvering diverging requirements and their potential long-term implications for business practices.

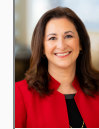

Attendees will explore the following topics of discussion:

- “E”nvironmental Landscape
 - California & New York
 - Texas
 - Final “Stayed” SEC Climate Disclosure Rule
- “S”ocial Scene
 - Human Capital and Pay Transparency
 - DEI & Racial Audits
 - The SCOTUS Decision
- “G”overnance Goals
 - SEC Rule on ESG Investing
 - State Level Bans on ESG Investing
 - Anti-ESG Movement

CLE is approved in CA, NY, PA, TX, IL, and NV.

Other jurisdictions will be applied for upon request if needed.
