

OSHA sharpens focus of COVID-19 safety efforts

Thursday, April 1, 2021

John Ho was quoted in Business Insurance discussing OSHA's National Emphasis Program to focus its enforcement efforts on industries with the largest number of workers at serious risk of contracting the coronavirus. The targets named in the NEP have "demonstrated to be at a higher risk" over the past year, according to John. "It makes sense to me," he said.

To read more of this article, click here.

Related Practice Areas

- Labor & Employment