

Kerry McTigue Discusses IP Career with Law360

Wednesday, July 31, 2013

Kerry McTigue was recently interviewed by Law360 in an article titled, "Q&A With Cozen O'Connor's Kerry McTigue." In the article, Kerry, co-chair of the Intellectual Property Department, discusses his experiences and challenges through his detailed career. Additionally, McTigue offers insight on which areas of his practice could be reformed by stating, "A key area in need of reform remains the claim construction process, known as Markman. While the issue of claim construction is a question of law, there are, like many other questions of law, underlying factual questions to be resolved." To read McTigue's full remarks, click here.

Related Practice Areas

- Hatch-Waxman & Biologics
- Intellectual Property