

California Reopening Prompts Changes to Workplace Safety Policies

Tuesday, June 22, 2021

Walter Stella was quoted in SHRM discussing how businesses must comply with applicable federal, state, and local requirements. Despite recent changes, employers should avoid hastily revising their workplace policies. Within certain parameters, however, employers have some flexibility when developing policies, according to Walter.

To read more of this article, click here.

Related Practice Areas

- Labor & Employment