

2023 Trends: Legalization of Recreational Marijuana and Therapeutic Psychedelics

Friday, December 16, 2022

George Voegele was quoted in SHRM discussing the implications that the legalization of recreational cannabis has on employers. "State law may restrict certain categories of employees from using recreational marijuana — for example, employees who operate heavy equipment or have other safety-sensitive roles, such as police officers, firefighters or other first responders," said George.
