

Big Law Builds Up State AG Expertise Amid Enforcement Boost

Wednesday, May 12, 2021

Lori Kalani and Bernie Nash are quoted in Bloomberg Law discussing the growth in law firms that have played out over the past five to 10 years in response to state AGs' ramped up enforcement work in antitrust, health care, worker rights, and other areas. "I don't think it's any secret that AGs have become much more well known and respected as a force to be reckoned with," said Lori. "We can handle the multistates because we know all of the AGs, their quirks, their idiosyncrasies, what their priorities are, and the direction they'd like to take a case in, as well as the working staff," Bernie said. "There are a lot of wannabes and very few specialists."
