What Should Employers Do When a Worker Tests Positive for COVID-19? [SHRM]

Friday, August 12, 2022

Arielle Eisenberg was quoted in SHRM discussing the latest on when an employee tests positive for COVID-19. "Employers that are following CDC guidelines should ensure that their policies reflect the guidelines and are applied to employees as consistently as possible," said Arielle.

To read more of this article, click here.

COZEN O'CONNOR