

Patrick Martin Discusses Trump's VP Pick and DNC Uncertainty on NBC Chicago

Thursday, July 18, 2024

Following the Republican National Convention, Patrick Martin, executive vice president of Cozen O'Connor Public Strategies, provided insightful analysis on NBC-TV Chicago, anchored by Marion Brooks and Alex Maragos. Patrick discussed the strategic implications of former President Donald Trump's selection of JD Vance as his vice presidential running mate. Additionally, he explored the uncertainty surrounding the Democratic nominee as the Democratic National Convention approaches.

Watch the interview here.

Related Practice Areas

- 2024 Elections
- Government Relations - Cozen O'Connor Public Strategies