

Hayes Hunt and Daniel Luccaro Discuss CoVet Program with Law360

Monday, August 4, 2014

Hayes Hunt, Chair of the Pro Bono Committee, and Dan Luccaro, member of the Subrogation and Recovery Practice Group, discuss Cozen O'Connor's CoVet program in an article titled "Cozen Attorneys Guide Vets Through Benefit Claims Maze" as part of Law360's Pro Bono Spotlight. "The need for pro bono representation and advocacy is acute among homeless veterans, with many eligible for a level of support that can get them off the streets and back to work in they substantiate that their medical problems are related to their service and navigate the VA," said Dan. According to Hayes, "it's really about getting them plugged back into the system and back to VA medical services they need to get better physically or emotionally."
