

What SCOTUS' Immunity Ruling Means for Trump's Cases and Future Presidents

Tuesday, July 2, 2024

Jerry Goldfeder was quoted in a WLRN article discussing how the U.S. Supreme Court's decision regarding presidential immunity will impact Donald Trump's conviction and sentencing in New York. According to Jerry, the immunity ruling shouldn't affect Judge Juan Merchan's sentencing decision in the business records case. "Trump in his appeal may raise the immunity issue, which will be litigated up to the highest court in New York and possibly the U.S. Supreme Court," he added.

To read the full article, click here.

Related Practice Areas

- 2024 Elections
- Commercial Litigation
- Government & Regulatory