

NYC Mayor Eric Adams Indicted After Federal Corruption Probe

Thursday, September 26, 2024

Jerry Goldfeder was quoted in a Bloomberg Law article discussing New York City Mayor Eric Adam's indictment and what would happen if he resigned. According to Jerry, New York City Public Advocate Jumaane Williams would immediately become mayor if Adams were to resign. He added that if a mayoral vacancy occurs more than 90 days before the primary scheduled for June 24, Williams would be required to call a special election within three days.

To read the full article, click here.

Related Practice Areas

- Commercial Litigation
- Government & Regulatory