

Secretive Court Fight Roiling New York's Democratic Socialists

Tuesday, January 30, 2024

In a New York Times article, Jerry Goldfeder discussed the failure of D.S.A. for the Many, a New York State multi-candidate committee supporting Democratic Socialists, to file the authorizations necessary to raise and spend candidate funds in the 2022 elections. "This may seem like small potatoes, but it isn't," Goldfeder remarked. He emphasized that without the mandated authorizations, voters would be unable to obtain the "full picture of who is spending money and for whom."

To read the full article, click here. (Subscription Required)

Related Practice Areas

- Government & Regulatory