

Navigating the Evolving U.S. Capital Markets

Date & Time

Start Date: 10/10/2023

Start Time: 12:00 p.m. ET

End Time: 1:00 p.m. ET

Elevated interest rates have triggered a cascade of effects, including reduced deal flow, declining valuations, and increased investor preference for safer assets. With the probability of a slowdown in the coming quarters at a high, and short-term fluctuations in stock prices remaining a topic of discussion, one thing remains constant: access to the capital markets remain challenging.

Join Greg Smith, director at Solebury Capital, and Christopher Bellini and Katayun Jaffari, co-chairs of Cozen O'Connor's Capital Markets & Securities Practice to gain insight on navigating the challenges and opportunities presented by the U.S. capital markets.

Topics include:

- The recent state of affairs of the capital markets.
- The current dynamics impacting the U.S. capital markets, including the influence of higher interest rates and its ripple effect on various sectors.
- What the future holds for investors, businesses, and stakeholders as we navigate these shifting financial conditions.

CLE is approved in CA, NY, TX, IL, NV, and PA.

Other jurisdictions will be applied for upon request.
