

Employers Deal with Workers' Lost Vaccination Cards

Wednesday, April 21, 2021

David Barron was quoted in SHRM discussing the possibility of mandatory vaccinations at work. To encourage more widespread vaccinations, President Joe Biden has announced a paid-leave tax credit to employers that provide full pay for any employee who takes time off to get a COVID-19 vaccination. "There is substantial pushback on mandatory vaccinations and passports, which has culminated in numerous state executive orders and pending legislation," said David.

To read more of this article, click here.

Related Practice Areas

- Labor & Employment