

Bobbi Britton Tucker Named to The Executive Leadership Academy

Thursday, February 6, 2020

Bobbi Britton Tucker was named a member of The Executive Leadership Academy presented by the Carnegie Mellon University Tepper School of Business. Bobbi was named along with 27 Pittsburgh area African-American executives who will participate in the academy. The Executive Leadership Academy provides more than 120 hours of instruction by business school faculty and industry experts, one-on-one sessions with executive coaches, and individually matched professional sponsors working with each participant. Qualified participants must have at least 10 years of work experience in corporate, nonprofit, or government sectors of the community and must be based in the Pittsburgh region.

Britton Tucker is counsel of Cozen O'Connor's Labor & Employment department and devotes her practice to representing employers in all aspects of employment and labor law. She represents employers in a wide variety of employment-related matters before state and federal courts and agencies. Having worked for 10 years as a professional in the field of Human Resources, Bobbi is able to uniquely understand clients' needs and issues, and provide both a practical and legal approach to employee and labor relations.
