

Court Divide Deepens For Insurers' Labor Cost Battles

Friday, October 8, 2021

Alycen Moss was quoted in an article published by Insurance Authority that discusses the Illinois Supreme Court ruling that State Farm cannot automatically depreciate labor costs on top of the cost of materials when handling property damage claims. "While insureds may not have given much thought to this issue before, they are now making sure they understand how they will be paid under their policies in an attempt to offset the higher costs in the construction industry," said Alycen.

To read the full article, click here.

Related Practice Areas

- Insurance Coverage