

Cozen O'Connor Named Law Firm of the Year Finalist by The Legal Intelligencer

Tuesday, October 13, 2020

As part of The Legal Intelligencer's 2020 Professional Excellence Awards, Cozen O'Connor was named a finalist for Law Firm of the Year, along with Troutman Pepper and Reed Smith. According to The Legal Intelligencer, "The purpose of the award is to recognize the Pennsylvania firm that has demonstrated a broad spectrum of achievements in the past year and talent depth." To be considered for this honor, the firm had to enter submissions in the following categories: Lawyers on the Fast Track, Lifetime and/or Best Mentors, Litigation and/or Dealmakers categories. We previously announced that Jillian Flax, a member of the firm's Commercial Litigation Practice, was named a Lawyer on the Fast Track, and Bernard Lee, a member of Cozen O'Connor's Real Estate Practice, was recognized with a Lifetime Achievement award.

Click here \(subscription required\) to read Michael Heller's thoughts on the biggest challenges facing the industry, opportunities the current climate have presented to the firm, and what the firm is doing to prepare the next generation of lawyers.